Club Legal

Corporate legal support to protect and enhance your business

Introducing Club Legal by Progeny

In business, certainty is everything. Legal support should complement your strategy and give you confidence in the decisions you take. It should be clear, commercially-sound and readily available, but you need to be certain that the costs will never spiral out of control.

Club Legal by Progeny builds a comprehensive body of corporate legal and employee management support around your business with a service package designed to meet your organisation's specific requirements. It is available as often as you need it – giving you unrestricted access to clear, commercially-sound advice, with complete price certainty.

We can help with everything from one-off projects to a fully outsourced service. Whether you just need a sounding board, or require director-level legal counsel, we combine high quality advice with excellent client service to enhance your business and give you complete confidence in your decisions.

Guiding your growth

Balancing the interests of your organisation and the needs of your people with the day-to-day running of your business can be a huge challenge.

Club Legal takes a strategic view. We're proactive, not reactive. We deal in long-term plans, not short-term fixes. We start by investing the time in getting to know your business – your objectives, your aspirations and your growth timeline. Armed with that knowledge, we can guide you through your legal challenges as the demands of your business change – from start-up through to expansion, maturity and exit.

Club Legal enables us to manage all your legal matters in a timely and efficient manner. There's no time wasted getting up to speed – at every step, we're ahead of the curve. The Club Legal membership model is designed to prevent and avert problems, saving you time and money. We are here to develop your business with legal decisions that protect, strengthen and enhance its value. It's a small investment in the bigger picture.

We can support you with routine corporate commercial and employee management advice or guide you in more complex areas like reorganisations, TUPE, mergers and acquisitions, and commercial property. Whatever the situation, we will work with you to achieve the desired outcome.

Progeny Corporate Law delivers specialist support to business. We are part of the Progeny Group, a multiservice platform offering a unique combination of wealth management advice, as well as private and corporate legal support.

The right balance of support

No two businesses are the same. Each has its own set-up, workforce and legal requirements. That's why Progeny have developed a flexible membership model that benefits a huge variety of organisations. We offer bespoke packages to serve listed companies, private equity funds, start-ups and owner-managed businesses.

Whether you're looking for a comprehensive outsourced solution or specific support to complement your in-house capability, Club Legal can be tailored to suit requirements with a hand-picked combination of services. You might have routine queries on HR and employment law, or need help with necessities like supplier contracts, commercial agreements, employee contracts, HR policies and statutory compliance obligations. Or maybe you're in the process of negotiating a property purchase, acquiring a business, or being acquired.

No matter what you need, our aim is to steer you past the pitfalls to the best legal outcome. Everything is scalable, adaptable and designed around your business.

Confidence, certainty and peace of mind

Legal support is often viewed with fear by businesses. It's seen as something to turn to in a time of crisis. Then the lawyer's clock starts to tick, the cost of support starts to mushroom, and you quickly have another problem on your hands. Practical solutions can be hard to access, and companies often seek support too late, when an issue is already out of hand.

Treating corporate legal support as a one-off crisis purchase is inefficient, expensive and creates unnecessary risk. A lack of expert legal guidance breeds uncertainty and a reactive approach to problem-solving that negatively impacts an organisation.

With Club Legal we take a different approach. We see legal support in terms of planning and risk management, rather than troubleshooting. Our strategic, solutions-focused service model can help to avert a potential crisis and takes the added distraction of costs out of the equation. You can enjoy on-demand access to consistently high-quality advice – all with complete price certainty.

On-demand access to expert advice

We build a body of support around your business – available whenever you need it. Our lawyers listen carefully, respond quickly, and provide outstanding support. We take the time to get to know your business, what it demands, and what you want to achieve.

Club Legal provides ready access to practical guidance and representation on all employee relations and business legal matters to assist you with your daily decisions. Members receive a legal health check at the outset, including a review of all types of contracts, supply agreements, policies, procedures and employee handbooks to ensure they have a solid foundation to build from.

Ongoing support is delivered through the Club Legal Help Desk, providing round-the-clock answers to all your questions, big and small. There is even optional insurance to protect owners, directors and businesses from employee and third-party claims.

Flexible and scalable support

Club Legal members receive unrestricted access to expert legal advice and corporate legal support through an annual subscription. Designed around your business requirements, we create a structure of legal support from a combination of services, hand-picked by you.
